

Coleurí

Coleurí is a bold multifunctional seating series by the world-renowned, award-winning designers at Dorigo Design. This striking collection embraces simplicity while showcasing an elegant Italian high-design aesthetic. Available in a range of dipped-look colors, Coleurí adds a dynamic touch to any space. It offers versatile options, including a sleek poly seat, an upholstered seat, or a fully upholstered chair. For added sophistication, choose the wood base option to elevate its timeless appeal.

Design by Dorigo Design

Dorigo Design studio was founded by Fiorenzo Dorigo in 1992, and it operates in the fields of industrial, furniture, product and interior design. Seeking beauty and innovation rather than trends, Dorigo Design projects explore concepts that not only look good, but also feel and work well. They have a practical and thoughtful, no-nonsense approach to design, characterized by sharp and crisp lines, sensible details, quality and durability.
